BUXTON CRESCENT - COURSE & DINNER VENUE

Buxton Crescent is a Grade I listed, Georgian building in Buxton, Derbyshire, built by the 5th Duke of Devonshire in the 1780s to establish the town as a fashionable spa centre, rivalling Bath. Designed by John Carr of York, it housed hotels and lodging houses and was a focal point for spa treatments using the town's thermal waters. After closing in 1992 due to structural issues, it underwent a lengthy and costly restoration, reopening in October 2020 as a luxury hotel and thermal spa.
